"They always deliver — no questions. Whether it be keynote speaking, category management training, strategic reviews or mentoring, they always add value. They are unique in terms of what they offer through a blend of practical experience, theoretical knowledge and the considered inclusion of the latest thinking and trends. Use them. I guarantee you will not be disappointed".

Paper Plus CEO

"In two short days, they were able to thoroughly explain a large array of financial statistics, equations, strategies, planning, and management skills, that I had only scratched the surface of in my four and a half years in the role. An exceptional experience".

Hunting and Fishing NZ

"Their programmes offer us an in-depth look at product management targeted specifically to our operation. Through the attendance of both myself and other store staff we have put in place new strategies that have delivered notable improvements to both our sales mix and more importantly our bottom line."
